Summary

I'm a frontend developer with around 3 years of experience, passionate about creating user-friendly and visually appealing interfaces. I enjoy building intuitive, responsive websites and apps that offer smooth and engaging experiences.

I have a strong focus on UI/UX, making sure designs are not just beautiful but also easy to use. I work with modern frontend technologies to bring ideas to life with clean and efficient code.

Beyond development, I have experience in QA engineering, sales, and HR management, which has helped me sharpen my attention to detail, problem-solving, and communication skills.

I'm looking for a role in a friendly and collaborative team where I can use my creativity and skills to build great user experiences.
